Evaluation Specialist

Job Description
We're on the hunt for top-notch Evaluation Specialists for UN Secretariat assignments 🌐! Expect the gig to have you assessing various projects, programs, sub-programs, work units, strategies, and thematic topics 🔍. Although the work location varies according to our hiring office's needs, remote working might be part of your future 🏡. The duration of the assignment depends on the specific requirements of each task ⏰.

Your responsibilities mainly include conducting evaluations aligning with UN standards: from crafting evaluation designs and in-depth reports to data analysis and interpreting findings 📚. Communication skills are essential since you'll make recommendations and disseminate findings through reports and presentations 📊. Got an advanced degree in fields like business, public administration, or social sciences, and at least five years of evaluation experience 🎓? Are you fluent in English or French 🗣️? Apply now! Don't forget to keep your application current as you acquire new skills and experiences—applying doesn't guarantee selection for subsequent assignments.

Please note: THE UNITED NATIONS DOES NOT CHARGE A FEE AT ANY STAGE OF THE RECRUITMENT PROCESS (APPLICATION, INTERVIEW MEETING, PROCESSING, OR TRAINING). THE UNITED NATIONS DOES NOT CONCERN ITSELF WITH INFORMATION ON APPLICANTS' BANK ACCOUNTS.