Executive Summary:
The Motivational Interviewing Network of Trainers (MINT) is an international organisation of trainers in motivational interviewing, incorporated as a 501(c)(3) tax-exempt non-profit charitable organisation in the state of Virginia, USA. The trainers come from diverse backgrounds and apply Motivational Interviewing (MI) in a variety of settings. Their central interest is to improve the quality and effectiveness of counseling and consultations with clients about behavior change. Started in 1997 by a small group of trainers trained by William R. Miller and Stephen Rollnick, the organisation has since grown to represent forty countries and more than thirty different languages.

The mission of MINT is to promote good practice in the use, research, and training of motivational interviewing. MINT supports the continuing learning and skillfulness of its members through meetings, open sharing of resources, communication, publications, and shared practice opportunities. Rather than seeking to limit or control the practice and training of motivational interviewing, MINT promotes quality applications of motivational interviewing across cultures, languages, and contexts.
The Executive Director is the Chief Executive Officer of MINT. The Executive Director reports to the Chair of the Board of Directors and is responsible for the organisation's consistent achievement of its mission and financial objectives. The ED is responsible for translating strategic vision into effective organisational execution. This role is central to ensuring operational excellence, member engagement, and alignment with MINT's mission, values, and strategic goals.
The ED embodies the spirit of MI fully and welcomes input from the Board and its membership. The ED will embrace the Board and membership's shared vision and guide the MINT collective toward mutually understood objectives (Mission).
