Rule of Law and Democracy Intern

Job Description
Join the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights (OHCHR) as an intern with the Rule of Law and Democracy Section in Geneva, Switzerland! 🌍 This 3-month internship, with a potential extension to 6 months, offers an incredible opportunity to contribute to strengthening international human rights, promoting equality, and combating discrimination. We're looking for proactive team players who can collaborate across diverse cultural backgrounds and engage with varied perspectives. To qualify, you should be enrolled in or have completed a graduate program or a final year of a bachelor's degree. Fluency in English or French is essential, and knowing an additional UN language is a plus! Don't miss out on the chance to make a difference! 🚀 THE UNITED NATIONS DOES NOT CHARGE A FEE AT ANY STAGE OF THE RECRUITMENT PROCESS (APPLICATION, INTERVIEW MEETING, PROCESSING, OR TRAINING). THE UNITED NATIONS DOES NOT CONCERN ITSELF WITH INFORMATION ON APPLICANTS' BANK ACCOUNTS.