Assistant Network Engineer (POP In-charge)

About the job

Company Description Amber IT Ltd. is a leading communications provider in Bangladesh, known for its pioneering approach to voice and data services. The company has built a national, fully resilient MPLS network and continually evaluates emerging communications technologies to enhance service quality. Amber IT focuses on delivering reliable, business-centered connectivity solutions that address diverse and complex communication needs. Team members join an organization that values innovation, operational excellence, and long-term client partnerships.

Responsibilities & Context

- Perform site survey of remote locations to ensure quality installation of all racks, equipment power plants, fiber cable, etc. Report any and all defects to the Higher Key.
- Participate in on-call rotation schedule for nights and weekends.
- Perform other duties and responsibilities as required and assigned.
- Work outdoors in all kinds of weather and at all times of the day or night
- Work performed near power lines and electricity.
- Prepare reports by analyzing and summarizing information.
- Coordinate with network operation team to ensure rollout plan and service delivery.
- Manage field operation team and report to line Manager.
- Splicing fiber cable for large cable transfers·
- Graphical Design for Cable maintenance, Connection testing.
- Serve as a technical resource for staff on all fiber related areas and technical procedures.
- As the PoP In-charge, he will be accountable for all aspects of PoP maintenance and related responsibilities.
- He is also expected to perform any additional tasks assigned by his Supervisor/Team Leader.

Skills & Expertise

Hard Working

Willing to Travel

Other Relevant Skills

Customer Relationship

FTTX technology