About the job

Role: The Content Creator – Ikeja is a full-time, on-site role responsible for developing and producing engaging content that showcases products, projects, and brand story. Day-to-day tasks include planning and creating photo and video content of furniture pieces and workshop activities, writing product descriptions and social media captions, and preparing content for the website and online marketplaces. The role involves collaborating with the operations, sales, and marketing teams to gather information, highlight new collections, and ensure consistent brand messaging across all digital and offline channels. The Content Creator will manage content calendars, assist with basic graphic layouts, and monitor content performance to propose improvements. This position is based at the Ikeja facility and may require occasional visits to showrooms or client locations for content creation.

Qualifications

- Ability to create and manage visual and written content, including photography, videography, and basic graphics for digital platforms.
- Strong copywriting skills for product descriptions, social media posts, blog entries, and marketing materials.
- Familiarity with social media platforms, content scheduling tools, and basic digital marketing practices.
- Attention to detail in editing, proofreading, and ensuring brand consistency across all materials.
- Basic understanding of e-commerce content needs, such as listing optimization and customer-focused product information.
- Good communication and collaboration skills to work effectively with production, sales, and marketing teams.
- Ability to work on-site in Ikeja, manage deadlines, and adapt quickly in a fast-paced environment.
- Prior experience in content creation, marketing, or a related field; experience in furniture, interiors, or design industries is an advantage.
- Relevant education or training in Communications, Media, Marketing, Design, or a related discipline is beneficial.
