Legal SEO AEO Growth Hacker (Intern)
New Delhi, Delhi, India

About the job

Company Description Lekhak.app is an AI-powered platform designed to translate complex documents that traditional tools typically reject. It specializes in faded ink, scanned files, handwritten text, and intricate legal and multilingual documents, delivering results in minutes. The platform offers high accuracy, with 95%+ performance across 22 Indian and 100+ global languages. Lekhak.app removes the need for agencies and long waiting periods, providing transparent, affordable pricing starting at Rs 10 per page and a 10-page free trial, making it accessible for individuals and organizations handling demanding document workflows.
Role Description The Legal SEO AEO Growth Hacker (Intern) role is a part-time, hybrid position based in New Delhi, with flexibility for some work-from-home tasks. Day-to-day responsibilities include researching and analyzing legal topics relevant to Lekhak's services, optimizing website content for search engines and answer engine optimization (AEO), and identifying growth opportunities for legal-focused user segments. The intern will help create and refine SEO-optimized legal content, support link-building and outreach efforts, and contribute to landing pages, FAQs, and knowledge base articles aimed at legal professionals and organizations. The role also involves tracking performance metrics, experimenting with growth strategies, collaborating with product and marketing teams, and ensuring that all content aligns with legal best practices and brand guidelines.
Qualifications

- Strong foundation in Law with exposure to Legal Issues and regulatory considerations.
- Experience or interest in Legal Consulting and Legal Document Preparation for diverse document types.
- Effective Communication skills, including clear written and verbal interaction with legal and non-legal audiences.
- Understanding of SEO, AEO, and digital growth strategies, especially in legal or tech domains.
- Ability to conduct structured legal and market research and translate findings into actionable content ideas.
- Comfort working with AI tools and basic familiarity with translation, legal tech, or document workflows.
- Current enrollment in or recent completion of a law, communications, or related program is preferred.
- Strong attention to detail, ethical work practices, and the ability to work in a hybrid setup in New Delhi.