Marketing Communications Intern

United States

JobAiro is building a cleaner, faster, and more transparent way for people to search for jobs.
Unlike traditional job boards, JobAiro sources opportunities directly from company career pages and applicant tracking systems (ATS), providing fresher, more accurate job listings while reducing outdated, duplicate, and misleading postings.
As an early-stage startup preparing for launch, we're looking for curious, creative people who want to help shape not only our marketing but also how we grow from day one.

Role Description

JobAiro is seeking a Founding Growth Marketing & Communications Intern to help build awareness, grow our user community, and support our launch strategy.
This is more than a traditional marketing internship. You'll work directly with the founder to help test growth ideas, create compelling content, build communities, and experiment with user acquisition strategies.
The role combines marketing communications, growth marketing, content creation, community engagement, public relations, and brand storytelling. You'll contribute across multiple initiatives while gaining hands-on experience inside an early-stage startup.
This is a fully remote, flexible internship ideal for someone excited about startups, experimentation, and building products people genuinely love.

Responsibilities

Depending on your interests and experience, you'll contribute to areas such as:

Growth Marketing

- Support user acquisition and growth initiatives
- Assist with growth experiments and campaign testing
- Research referral and viral marketing opportunities
- Contribute to SEO and content distribution strategies
- Help analyze campaign performance and engagement metrics

Marketing Communications

- Create and edit marketing copy across digital channels
- Develop social media content and messaging
- Assist with blog articles, newsletters, and website content
- Help maintain consistent brand voice and positioning
- Support strategic communication initiatives

Community Building

- Help grow and engage communities on platforms such as Reddit and Discord
- Support beta testing and user feedback programs
- Participate in audience outreach and engagement initiatives
- Help identify opportunities to build lasting user relationships

Public Relations & Brand

- Assist with press releases and media outreach
- Support partnership and collaboration opportunities
- Help coordinate launch communications
- Conduct market and competitor research

Qualifications

We're looking for someone who is curious, proactive, and excited about helping build something from the ground up.

Preferred qualifications include:

- Strong written and verbal communication skills
- Interest in Marketing, Communications, Public Relations, Journalism, Business, or a related field
- Familiarity with digital marketing, social media platforms, and content creation
- Strong organizational skills and attention to detail
- Ability to work independently in a remote environment
- Comfortable managing multiple projects and meeting deadlines
- Analytical mindset with an interest in measuring and improving results
- Collaborative attitude and willingness to learn

Previous startup experience is not required.

Curiosity, creativity, initiative, and a willingness to experiment are valued just as much as technical experience.

Who This Opportunity Is For

This internship is ideal for:

- Students and recent graduates
- Aspiring growth marketers
- Future founders and entrepreneurs
- Community builders
- Startup enthusiasts
- Anyone interested in user acquisition, brand building, and product growth

If you're the type of person who enjoys asking:

- How do we get our first 1,000 users?
- What marketing experiments should we test?
- How can we create organic growth?
- How do communities become engaged and self-sustaining?
- What opportunities are competitors overlooking?

...you'll likely enjoy this role.

About the Founder

You'll work directly with a founder who brings more than 17 years of experience across recruiting, talent acquisition, HR, and people operations.

After nearly two decades helping companies hire exceptional talent and supporting professionals throughout their careers, she recognized how frustrating and inefficient job searching had become.

That experience inspired the creation of JobAiro—a platform designed to make job discovery simpler, more transparent, and more effective for candidates.

As an early team member, you'll have the opportunity to contribute ideas, test strategies, and help shape how the company grows.

What You'll Gain

- Hands-on experience helping launch an early-stage startup
- Direct mentorship from an experienced founder
- Ownership of meaningful marketing and growth initiatives
- Portfolio-worthy projects with measurable impact
- Exposure to startup operations, product strategy, and user acquisition
- Experience collaborating across marketing, communications, and growth
- The opportunity to influence the direction of a company from its earliest stages

Additional Details

- Fully remote
- Flexible schedule
- Project-based contributions
- Unpaid internship/contributor opportunity

As JobAiro grows and pursues future fundraising, early contributors may have the opportunity to transition into paid roles based on performance, company needs, and available resources.

If you're excited about startups, growth marketing, communications, experimentation, and helping build a product that improves the job search experience, we'd love to hear from you.
