[HIRING] - Senior Full Stack Engineer (TypeScript) - AI SaaS - $100k + equity - EU ONLY!

About Us
We are building a Generative AI platform and direct competitor to Higgsfield.ai.

We own a largest paid Generative AI communities in the world with more than 24,000 paying members. We have also raised $800,000 in angel funding.

Our MVP is approximately 80% complete, and we are entering a critical sprint toward public launch.

We already have a CTO, Product Owner, QA, UI/UX Designer, and a development team in place. We are looking for a senior engineer who can join immediately, take ownership, solve difficult technical problems, and help us successfully launch.

Compensation
- $100,000+ USD annual compensation (depending on experience)
- Equity
- Paid hourly
- Long-term opportunity for the right person

What You'll Do
- Build and improve our Generative AI platform using TypeScript and Next.js
- Solve architecture and performance challenges
- Develop launch-critical features
- Improve application scalability and reliability
- Review and improve existing code
- Work closely with the CTO, Product Owner, QA, and UI/UX Designer
- Help us successfully launch the platform

Tech Stack
Required:
- TypeScript
- Next.js
- React
- PostgreSQL

Nice to have:
- Node.js
- AI / Generative AI products
- Cloud infrastructure
- Performance optimization
- Modern SaaS architecture

Requirements
- At least 8+ years of professional software development experience
- Strong TypeScript and Next.js expertise
- Experience building and shipping production SaaS applications
- Strong understanding of software architecture and performance optimization
- Excellent debugging and problem-solving skills
- Comfortable working in existing codebases

- Startup mindset with strong ownership
- Based in Europe or able to work full-time in European time zones

Commitment
- This is a full-time role.
- We expect a minimum commitment of 8 hours per day, Monday through Friday.
- There may occasionally be periods where additional hours (or weekends) are needed to achieve important launch milestones and investor commitments. All overtime is paid.
- Because we are in a critical phase before launch, we are looking for someone who can dedicate their full professional focus to our product. During your engagement with us, we expect this to be your primary and only client commitment.

What We Don't Want
- Developers who require constant supervision
- Developers who over-engineer instead of shipping
- Developers looking for side projects
- Agencies or development studios
- Candidates balancing multiple active client engagements
